

A Wall of Selfishness

When we choose to sin, we build a wall of selfishness between ourselves and others. On the bricks of the wall below, write some of the things people do that build the wall of selfishness. On the lines below, list some ways to tear down the wall of selfishness and sin.

Ways to Tear Down the Wall

Family Note: Your child is learning that sin is acting in opposition to God's will. Sin builds a barrier between the person, God, and other people. If your child completes this activity page at home, provide help, especially with the list of positive suggestions for unselfish actions. Family members may wish to work on this activity together.

Teacher Note: Use this activity with Chapter 3, "Refusing to Love." Display the students' completed pages on the classroom bulletin board or in the parish hall.
